Why MATE

Mission at the Eastward (MATE) was created to help people in need stay in their home by doing needed repairs they could not otherwise afford to do. Located in Central Maine, MATE serves rural families and welcomes volunteers from across the Northeast and around the country. While in Maine, we can expect to work on ramps and decks, window installations, siding repair and simple roofing projects. Work teams are comprised of 4-6 high school youth and 2 adults. During the MATE week, the teams are housed in churches, sleeping on floors, and learning to live, work, and share in community.

WHAT IS PROVIDED?

- All transportation, meals and lodging
- Construction materials and tools for worksites
- Orientation information to introduce you to Central Maine and your service project
- Capable staff who troubleshoot on worksites
- Morning and evening worship activities
- A Project T-shirt and plenty of fun photo opportunities

HISTORY OF MATE

Mission at the Eastward (MATE) was organized in 1954 by the National Board of Missions of the Presbyterian Church to support the ministry of newly organized Presbyterian congregations serving small, rural communities. Both congregations and pastors depended upon one another. Christian witness took two forms: organizing congregations in underserved communities, and providing social outreach.

VISION STATEMENT: "Mission at the Eastward is a dynamic, forward-looking family of Presbyterian churches and service ministries located in West Central Maine, inspired by Christ to worship and work, "reaching the last house on the last road" with God's gifts and graces so that they are exemplified, multiplied, and shared with others for the good of all."
